3.0 INTRODUCTION

It has already been explained in an earlier unit that accounting involves recording classifying and summarising the financial transactions. Recording is done in the Journal. This has already been explained in the preceding unit. Classifying of the recorded transactions is done in the Ledger. This is being explained in the present unit.

3.1 UNIT OBJECTIVES

After going through this unit, you will be able to:

- Undersand the role of the Ledger in recording business transactions
- Understand the meaning and rules regarding posting
- Describe the meaning and the objects of preparing a trial balance
- Make a posting and prepare a trial balance

3.2 LEDGER

A ledger is a book which contains various accounts. In other words, a ledger is a set of accounts. It contains all accounts of the business enterprise whether Real, Nominal or Personal. It may be kept in any of the following two forms:

(ii) Loose Leaf Ledger. (i) Bound Ledger, and

It is common to keep the Ledger in the form of loose-leaf cards these days. This helps in posting transactions particularly when a mechanised system of accounting is used.

3.3 POSTING

The term 'Posting' means transferring the debit and credit items from the Journal to their respective accounts in the Ledger. It should be noted that the exact names of accounts used in the Journal should be carried to the Ledger. For example, if in the Journal, Expenses Account has been debited, it would not be correct to debit the Office Expenses Account in the Ledger. Though, in the Journal, it might have been indicated clearly in the narration that it is an item of office expenses. The correct course would have been to record the amount to the Office Expenses Account in the Journal as well as in the Ledger.

NOTES

Posting may be done at any time. However, it should be completed before the financial statements are prepared. It is advisable to keep the more active accounts posted to date. The examples of such accounts are the cash account, personal accounts of various parties etc.

The posting may be done by the bookkeeper from the Journal to the Ledger by any of the following methods:

- (i) He may take a particular side first. For example, he may take the debits first and make the complete postings of all debits from the Journal to the Ledger.
- (ii) He may take a particular account and post all debits and credits relating to that account appearing on one particular page of the Journal. He may then take some other accounts and follow the same procedure.
- (iii) He may complete postings of each journal entry before proceeding to the next journal entry.

It is advisable to follow the last method. One should post each debit and credit item as it appears in the Journal.

The Ledger Folio (L.F.) column in the Journal is used at the time when debits and credits are posted to the Ledger. The page number of the Ledger on which the posting has been done is mentioned in the L.F. column of the Journal. Similarly, a folio column in the Ledger can also be kept where the page from which posting has been done from the Journal may be mentioned. Thus, there are cross references in both the Journal and the Ledger.

A proper index should be maintained in the Ledger giving the names of the accounts and the page numbers.

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN JOURNAL AND LEDGER

Both the Journal and the Ledger are the most important books used under the Double Entry System of bookkeeping. Their relationship can be expressed as follows:

- (i) The transactions are recorded first of all in the Journal and then they are posted in the Ledger. Thus, the Journal is the book of first or original entry, while the Ledger is the book of second entry.
- (ii) The journal records transactions in a chronological order, while the Ledger records transactions in an analytical order.
- (iii) The journal is more reliable as compared to the Ledger since it is the book in which the entry is passed first of all.
- The process of recording transactions is termed as 'Journalising' while the process of recording transactions in the Ledger is called 'Posting'.

3.5 RULES REGARDING POSTING

The following rules should be observed while posting transactions in the Ledger from the Journal:

- (i) Separate accounts should be opened in the Ledger for posting transactions relating to different accounts recorded in the Journal. For example, separate accounts may be opened for sales, purchases, sales returns, purchases returns, salaries, rent, cash, etc.
- (ii) The concerned account which has been debited in the Journal should also be debited in the Ledger. However, a reference should be made of the other account which has been credited in the Journal. For example, for salaries paid, the salaries account should be debited in the Ledger, but reference should be given of the Cash Account which was been credited in the Journal.

(iii) The concerned account, which has been credited in the Journal should also be credited in the Ledger, but reference should be given of the account, which has been debited in the Journal. For example, for salaries paid, Cash Account has been credited in the Journal. It will be credited in the Ledger also, but reference will be given of the Salaries Account in the Ledger.

Thus, it may be concluded that while making a posting in the Ledger, the concerned account which has been debited or credited in the Journal should also be debited or credited in the Ledger, but reference has to be given of the other account which has been credited or debited in the Journal, as the case may be. This will be clear with the following example.

Suppose salaries of Rs 10,000 have been paid in cash, the following entry will be passed in the Journal:

Salaries Account

(i)

10.000

To Cash Account

(ii)

10.000

In the Ledger two accounts will be opened (i) Salaries Account, and (ii) Cash Account. Since Salaries Accounts has been debited in the Journal, it will also be debited in the Ledger. Similarly Cash Account has been credited in the Journal and, therefore, it will also be credited in the Ledger, but reference will be given of the other account involved. Thus the accounts will appear as follows in the Ledger:

| Dr. | SALARIES AG | SALARIES ACCOUNT | |
|---------------|-------------|------------------|----------|
| Particulars | Rs | Particulars | . |
| Cash A/c (ii) | 10,000 | | |
| | CASH ACC | OUNT | |
| Particulars | Rs | Particulars | Rs |
| | | Salaries A/c (i) | 10,000 |

Use of the words 'To' and 'By'

It is customary to use words 'To' and 'By' while making a posting in the Ledger. The word 'To' is used with the accounts which appear on the debit side of a Ledger Account, For example, in the Salaries Account, instead of writing only 'Cash' as shown above, the words 'To Cash' will appear on the debit side of the account. Similarly, the word 'By' is used with accounts which appear on the credit side of a Ledger Account. For example, in the above case, the words 'By Salaries A/c' will appear on the credit side of the Cash Account instead of only 'Salaries A/c'. The words 'To' and 'By' do not have any specific meanings. Modern accountants are, therefore, ignoring the use of these words.

The procedure of posting from the Journal to the Ledger will be clear with the help of the illustrations given in the following pages:

Illustration 3.1. Journalise the following transactions and post them into the Ledger:

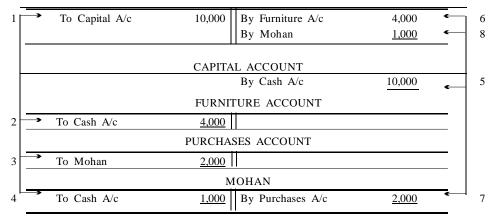

- 1. Ram started business with a capital of Rs 10,000.
- 2. He purchased furniture for cash Rs 4,000.
- 3. He purchased goods from Mohan on credit Rs 2,000.
- 4. He paid cash to Mohan Rs 1,000.

NOTES

Balancing of An Account

In business, there may be several transactions relating to one particular account. In a Journal, these transactions appear on different pages in a chronological order while they appear in a classified form under that particular account in the Ledger. At the end of a period (say a month, a quarter or a year), the businessman will be interested in knowing the position of a particular account. This means, he should total the debits and credits of the account separately and find out the net balance. This technique of finding out the net balance of an account, after considering the totals of both debits and credits appearing in the account is known as 'Balancing the Account'. The balance is put on the side of the account which is smaller and a reference is given that it has been carried forward or carried down (c/f or c/d) to the next period. On the other hand, in the next period a reference is given that the opening has been brought the forward or brought down (b/f or b/d) from the previous period. This will be clear with the help of the following illustration.

Illustration 3.2. Journalise the following transactions, post them in the Ledger and balance the accounts on 31 January.

- 1. Ram started business with a capital of Rs 10,000.
- 2. He purchased goods from Mohan on credit Rs 2,000.
- 3. He paid cash to Mohan Rs 1,000.
- 4. He sold goods to Suresh Rs 2,000.
- 5. He received cash from Suresh Rs 3,000.
- 6. He further purchased goods from Mohan Rs 2,000.
- 7. He paid cash to Mohan Rs 1,000.
- 8. He further sold goods to Suresh Rs 2,000.
- 9. He received cash from Suresh Rs 1,000.

Check Your Progress

- 1. State whether each of the following statements is True or False:
- (a) The 'Posting' is done in the Journal.
- (b) Ledger is a set of accounts.
- (c) Transactions are recorded first of all in the Ledger.
- (d) Journal records transactions in a chronological order.
- (e) Ledger records transactions in an analytical order.
- (f) While posting transactions in the ledger, if the account is debited in the Journal, it will be credited in the Ledger.
- (g) The word 'To' is used with the accounts which appear on the Debit side of a ledger account.
- (h) Trial Balance helps in knowing the arithmetical accuracy of the accounting

It is to be noted the balance of an account is always known by the side which is greater. For example, in the above illustration, the debit side of the Cash Account is greater than the credit side by Rs 12,000. It will be, therefore, said that Cash Account is showing a debit balance of Rs 12,000. Similarly, the credit side of the Capital Account is greater than debit side by Rs 10,000. It will be, therefore, said that the Capital Account is showing a credit balance of Rs 10,000.

3.6 TRIAL BALANCE

Dr.

In case, the various debit balances and the credit balances of the different accounts are taken down in a statement, the statement so prepared is termed as a Trial Balance. In other words, Trial Balance is a statement containing the various ledger balances on a particular date. For example, with the balances of the ledger accounts prepared in Illustration 3.2, the Trial Balance can be prepared as follows:

TRIAL BALANCE as on 31st January

| Particulars | Debit | Credit |
|-------------------|--------|--------|
| | Rs | Rs |
| Cash Account | 12,000 | |
| Capital Account | | 10,000 |
| Purchases Account | 4,000 | |
| Mohan | | 2,000 |
| Sales Account | | 4,000 |
| | 16,000 | 16,000 |

Thus, the two sides of the Trial Balance tally. It means the books of accounts are arithmetically accurate.

Objects of Preparing A Trial Balance

- 1. Checking of the arithmetical accuracy of the accounting entries. As indicated above, the Trial Balance helps in knowing the arithmetical accuracy of the accounting entries. This is because according to the dual aspect concept for every debit, there must be an equivalent credit. Trial Balance represents a summary of all ledger balances and, therefore, if the two sides of the Trial Balance tally, it is an indication of this fact that the books of account are arithmetically accurate. Of course, there may be certain errors in the books of account in spite of an agreed Trial Balance. For example, if a transaction has been completely omitted from the books of account, the two sides of the Trial Balance will tally, in spite of the books of account being wrong. This has been discussed in detail later in a separate unit.
- 2. Basis for financial statements. Trial Balance forms the basis for preparing financial statements such as the Income Statement and the Balance Sheet. The Trial Balance represents all transactions relating to different accounts in a summarised form for a particular period. In case, the Trial Balance is not prepared, it will be almost impossible to prepare the financial statements as stated above to know the profit or loss made by the business during a particular period or its financial position on a particular date.

3. Summarised ledger. It has already been stated that a Trial Balance contains the ledger balances on a particular date. Thus, the entire ledger is summarised in the form of a Trial Balance. The position of a particular account can be judged simply by looking at the Trial Balance. The Ledger may be seen only when details regarding the accounts are required.

Methods of preparing Trial Balance. A trial balance may be prepared according to any of the two methods:

- (a) Totals method. In case of this method, the totals of debit and credit of the accounts are shown in the trial balance. Trial balance is prepared before ledger accounts are balanced. The totals of the debit and credit columns of the trial balance must be equal. This method is not popular.
- (b) Balance method. In case of this method, the balances of the ledger accounts are shown in the respective debit and credit columns of the trial balance. The total of the balance of the debit column must be equal to the total balance of credit column. This is the most common method of preparing a trial balance.

Illustration 3.4. Prepare the Ledger Accounts and the Trial Balance on the basis of transactions given in Illustration 3.6.

Illustration 3.8. Mr. Sanjay has two sons namely Ranjan and Ramesh. The elder son Ranjan had taken a B.Sc. degree in Computer Science from Delhi University while Ramesh had done B.Com. (Pass) through correspondence. Mr. Sanjay has retired from a government job and got a sum of Rs. 5,00,000 as his Provident Fund Money. Ranjan had started working with a computer firm on a salary of Rs. 5,000 per month while Ramesh got a job as a clerk in a small business house for Rs. 4,000 per month. Mr. Sanjay was not satisfied with the progress of his sons and wished that they should start some business of their own. In view of the fact that his elder son Ranjan had experience in the computer firm, Mr. Sanjay thought of computer business for his sons and asked them to make out a project for the same. The two sons suggested or setting up a Computer Centre with the name 'Young Informatics' providing the following services:

- Short-term courses for different age groups;
- Internet access facility at the prevailing market rates through VSNL;
- Computer games for small children
- Typing and printing of documents on computer;
- Selling of computer stationary.

Mr. Sanjay agreed with the proposal and the following arrangements were agreed upon:

- (i) Ranjan and Ramesh each would put Rs. 20,000 as their capitals from their savings made by them during their employment.
- (ii) Mr. Sanjay would provide a loan of Rs. 1,00,000 to the firm on nominal rate of interest of 5% p.a.
- (iii) The ground floor of the house would be sued as shop for the computer centre. The business would be charged a rent of Rs. 1,000 per month.
- (iv) A bank loan of Rs 2,00,000 would be arranged to finance the purchase of computer and peripherals. The total bank loan amount including interest of Rs. 50,000 would be returned in annual instalments as under:

| (a) At the end of 1st Year | Principal Rs. 50,000 + Interest Rs. | 20,000 |
|----------------------------|-------------------------------------|--------|
| (b) At the end of 2nd Year | Principal Rs. 50,000 + Interest Rs. | 15,000 |
| (c) At the end of 3rd Year | Principal Rs. 50,000 + Interest Rs. | 10,000 |
| (d) At the end of 4th Year | Principal Rs 50 000 + Interest Rs | 5 000 |

The two sons finally started their business on 1st January, 2002. All transactions were to be made through bank except petty expenses for which Rs. 5,000 were kept in the business and the balance Rs. 1,35,000 were deposited in the bank (comprising of capitals and loan from Mr. Sanjay).

The following transactions took place during the year ending 31st December, 2002:

| | | 10. |
|----|-----------------------------------|----------|
| 1. | Furniture & Fixtures for the shop | 20,000 |
| 2 | Purchase of Computers | 2 00 000 |

| 12. | Entertainment Expenses | 2,000 |
| 13. | Computer Maintenance Expenses | 3,000 |
| 14. | Salaries of employees | 12,000 |

The two partners paid for rent and interest to their father. They also paid bank loan instalment. A sum of Rs. 1,000 p.m. was withdrawn by each one of them for their personal expenses. All payments were made by cheques and all collections were deposited in the bank the same day.

Mr. Sanjay wants to know about the progress made by his sons and to decide whether to go for further expansion of the business.

You are required to journalise the above transactions, post them in the ledger, prepare a trial balance after changing depreciation @ 20% on computers and 10% on furniure and fixtures.

3.7 VOUCHER SYSTEM

In a small organisation, it is possible for the proprietor to supervise personally all important matters. However, in case of large organisations, delegation of authority is required and therefore, it is necessary to have a proper internal check system for prevention of errors and frauds in recording the transactions and receiving or making final cash payments. The chances of frauds in case of cash payments are all the more. It is almost impossible for the disbursing official to have all information regarding the goods and services in respect of which he is required to make payments. This is because even in case of organisations of moderate size, the responsibility for issuing purchase orders, inspecting commodities received, verifying contractual and arithmetical details of invoices is divided among the employees of the various departments. The disbursing official should have, therefore, assurance of all concerned officials before making payments that the terms of the contract have been complied with and he is paying the exact amount of obligation. This is possible only when all the activities mentioned above are properly coordinated and linked with ultimate issuance of cheques to the creditors. One of the most effective systems employed for this purpose is termed as Voucher System.

The Voucher System may therefore be defined as 'a plan and method of procedure for the verification, recording and payment of all items (other than items to be paid from petty cash) which require the disbursement of cash.' As a matter fact, it is mainly a plan of internal check for all cash disbursement items. There are three basic requirements of the Voucher System:

- (a) A Voucher is to be prepared for each item of expenditure.
- (b) No payment shall be made without a properly verified and authorised voucher.
- (c) Development of a proper and efficient system for determining the amount to be paid on each day. This helps the disbursing official in determining the amount to be paid and the management in conveniently and continuously forecasting the amount of the cash required to meet maturing obligations. The following documents are used in the Voucher System:

1. Vouchers. In general terms, a Voucher means a documentary evidence in support a business transaction. It is a documentary evidence by which the accuracy of an entry made in the books of account can be substantiated. It may be a receipt, a counterfoil of a receipt book an invoice or even correspondence with the concerned a counterfoil of a receipt book, an invoice or even correspondence with the concerned parties. The term Voucher has a narrower meaning when applied to the Voucher System. It is a special form on which pertinent data about a liability and the particulars of its payments are recorded.

Variable are recorded.

Vouchers are generally prepared by the accounting department on the basis of invoices or returns that serve as the evidence of expenditure. This is done after the following comparisons and verifications have been completed and noted on the invoices:

- (i) Comparison with the copy of Purchase Order to verify the quantities, prices and terms.
- (ii) Comparison with the Goods Received Returns to determine the receipt of items recorded in the invoices.
- (iii) Verification of the arithmetical accuracy of the invoices.

After making the above verifications and comparisons, the invoices or other supporting evidence is attached to the voucher and is presented to the concerned official for his final approval.

2. Voucher Register. The Voucher Register is a columnar journal giving the details about the Voucher Nos., and different items of expenses in respect of which payments have to be made. A pro forma of a Voucher Register is given later.

The Vouchers are recorded in a numerical sequence. The credit is given to the accounts payable while debit is given to the account or accounts to be charged for expenditure. On making payment, the date of payment and the no. of cheques are inserted in the appropriate columns in the Voucher Register. The objective of such a recording is to provide ready information about determining the amount of individual unpaid vouchers. The total outstanding liability on account of vouchers unpaid at a particular date can be found out by adding up the individual amount of the unpaid vouchers as shown in the Voucher Register.

- 3. Unpaid Voucher File. After the vouchers have been prepared and recorded in the Voucher Register, they are filed in an Unpaid Voucher File. They remain there till they are paid. The amount due on each Voucher represents the credit balance of an account payable. Each Voucher in itself is comparable to an individual account in the Creditors Ledger. Hence, no separate Creditors Ledger is necessary.
- 4. Cheque Register. The payment of a Voucher is recorded in a Cheque Register, the pro forma of which is given below:

VOUCHER REGISTER

| Date | Payee | Voucher | Pa | iid | Credit | | | De | bit | | |
|--------|--------|---------|--------|---------------|--------------------|-----------|-------|----------|-----|---------------------|----------|
| | | No. | Date | Cheque No. | Voucher Payable | Purchases | Wages | Salaries | 00 | Selling Expenses | Sundries |

CHEQUE REGISTER

| Date | Cheque No. | Payee | Voucher No. | Accounts Payable Dr. | Discount Cr. | Bank Cr. |
|--------|------------|-------|-------------|----------------------------|-----------------|-------------|
| May 5 | 430 | Mohan | 501 | 250 | 10 | 240 |
| May 15 | 431 | David | 503 | 500 | 5 | 495 |
| | | | | 750 | 15 | 735 |

The Cheque Register is a modified form of Cash Payment Journal and it is so called because it is a complete record of all cheques issued. It is customary to record all cheques in a Cheque Register in the order of their sequence to avoid any mistake in their recording.

When a Voucher is to be paid, it is removed from the Unpaid Voucher File. On issue of a cheque, the date, the number of cheque and amount are listed on the back of the Voucher. This helps in recording the payments in the Cheque Register. The paid vouchers and the supporting documents are cancelled through a cancelling stamp to prevent their accidental or intentional reuse.

- 5. Paid Voucher File. After payments, vouchers are generally filed in numerical sequence in the Paid Voucher File. They are then readily available for examination by employees or independent auditors who may require information about a specific expenditure. The paid vouchers are finally destroyed in accordance with the firm's policy concerning the retention of records.
- 6. Vouchers Payable Account. The Vouchers Payable Account is similar to the Total Creditors Account. It is credited with the total amount payable on account of different vouchers and is debited with the amount of payments made. The balance of the Vouchers Payable account should agree with the total of the Unpaid Vouchers File and also with the sum of unpaid vouchers as shown in the Voucher Register. A pro forma of a Vouchers Payable Account is given below:

VOUCHERS PAYABLE ACCOUNT

| Date | Particulars | Amount | Date | Particulars | Amount |
|--------|--------------------|--------|--------|---------------------|--------|
| | | Rs | | | Rs |
| 1986 | | | 1986 | | |

Advantages of the Voucher System

The Voucher System offers the following advantages:

- (i) Safeguards cash disbursements. Voucher System provides for a Systematic plan for the verification and approval of all invoices, bills and other items requiring disbursement of cash. Thus, it safeguards all cash disbursements.
- (ii) Reduces bookkeeping work. Voucher System considerably reduces the bookkeeping work. The voucher itself works as an account of the creditor and total amount due to the creditors can be found out with the help of the Unpaid Vouchers File.
- (iii) Recording of all current liabilities. The Voucher System provides for the immediate recording of all current liabilities. It is generally found in case of firms which do not use the Voucher System and fail to record bills for items such services and expenses till they are actually paid. As a matter of fact, it is desirable to show all liabilities in the books of the business from the time they are incurred.
- (iv) Strengthening of internal check system. The placing of responsibilities for verification and approvals strengthens the system of internal check.
- (v) Planning future cash requirements. Voucher System provides continuous information for planning the future cash requirements. This enables the management to make maximum use of cash resources. Invoices in respect of which cash discounts are allowed can be paid within the discount period. Other invoices can be paid in accordance with the credit items. This helps in minimising cost and maintaining a favourable credit standard. Moreover, seasonal borrowings for working capital can also be planned more effectively, resulting in saving interest cost.

Limitations of the Voucher System

Voucher System has the following limitations:

- (i) Unsuitable for small concerns. Voucher System is neither suitable nor necessary for small business enterprises, particularly those with a high degree of proprietary supervision and control.
- (ii) Proper personnel and finances required. Voucher System requires sufficient personnel as well as finances for its successful operation. It will be a cumbersome exercise especially for an enterprise which is not well organised. If an enterprise which uses Voucher System does not have sufficient cash and is not in a position to pay the approved vouchers according to schedule, it may develop an unwieldy file of approved unpaid vouchers.
- (iii) Fails to provide overall creditor's account position. The system does not provide for giving an overall position of a creditor's account.
- (iv) Difficulties in case of partial payments, returns etc. The system proves a hindrance rather than a help in case of concerns which have many returns of goods and other corrections after approving and recording of purchase invoices. Such concerns have to make many partial payments of approved vouchers. In some cases, they have to defer payments too.

From the above, it may be concluded that Voucher System is suitable only for an enterprise which is well equipped both in respect of personnel and finances. It is not suitable for small concerns. Moreover, suitable modifications may have also to be made in the operation of the system as to meet the specific needs of a particular enterprise.
